Record Number of Exhibits Entered and an Unparalled Program of Amusement Attractions.

RICHMOND, VA .- Special .-The fifth annual exhibition of the Virginia State Fair Association, which opens at Richmond Monday, October record in attractions and attendance at a State Fair.

The liberality of the State Fair Asociation in offering $50,000 in cash premiums and purses aroused enthusiasm and the entries of exhibits in all classes exceed all previous records at State Fairs. The live stock exhibit will be the largest ever made in the East and the number of thoroughbred animals entered in all classes makes this exhibit of special interste to Virginia breeders. The live stock will be judged in a large exhibition ring, around which seats will be placed for the accommodation of spectators, and admission to these ring seats is free. The feature of the live stock exhibition is original with the Virginia State Fair and will be esecially appreciated by all interested in breeding. The judges will be men of national reputation, All Departments Filied With Exhibits.

The entries of exhibits in all de-partments of the Fair take the entire exhibition space provided. The new stalls and pens built this year are all taken by the increased entries of live stock. An entire building is provided for the woman's department this year and every inch of exhibition space is taken. Over 2,500 fowl are entered for the poultry show, not including pigeons and pet stock, and every coop will be occupied. The bench show has all the space allotted taken for prize

This is primarily the Virginia farmers' fair and the assignment of an entire building to farm products is justified by the large number of entries received from all over the State, the number of separate pieces of exhibits amounting to over 10,000. The King Corn Special has the place of honor in the big building and the largest number of entries. Next in prominence is the tobacco exhibit, which will be the largest and most interesting exhibit of Virginia leaf ever assembled. For the accommodation of the tobacco growers who have been delayed in curing their exhibits for the Fair by reason of the late crop, the time for making tobacco entries has been extended to October No entries will be received after that date and all exhibits must be in place before 9 o'clock of Tuesday morning, October 4th. Every day of the Fair will be a feature day, and the biggest day of all will be Thursday, October 6th, which is designated as Farmers' Day. The program for this day will provide a splendid series of attractions for the thousands of farmers who will come from all parts of Virginia and from others States to visit this biggest and best of all farmers' fairs. Monday will be Good Roads Day; Tuesday, Merchants' Day; Wednesday, Rich mond Day, proclaimed a general holiday by Mayor Richardson; Friday, Children's Day; Saturday, Aeroplane

The contract spe cifically provides for real flights. They must be of at least ten minutes duration with the aeroplane from 25 to 300 feet in the air. For the first flight the Fair Association is to pay $2,000 and for each of the other flights $600, payment to be made each day, after the flights are made. No flight; no pay. The reputation of Wright brothers and of Johnstone, the aviator, with the strict provisions of the contract, make it certain that visitors to this Fair will see real aeropiane flights. On one day of the Fair Johnstone to carry a passenger around the track This is an exhibition aside from the regular flight. On Saturday there will be a five mile race between the aeroplane and an automobile, One Mile of Shows; Many Big Free Attractions.

The amusement attractions engaged are the best ever assembled at a State Fair.
